

Hon. James L. Robart

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
FOR THE WESTERN DISTRICT OF WASHINGTONCORY CUMMINS AND SAVANNAH
CUMMINS,

Plaintiffs,

v.

SOLGEN POWER LLC and VERITY CREDIT UNION

Defendants.

No. 3:23-cv-05363

JLRSECOND STIPULATED MOTION AND [~~PROPOSED~~] ORDER FOR EXTENSION OF DEADLINES FOR INITIAL DISCLOSURES, JOINT STATUS REPORT, AND EARLY
SETTLEMENT (Dkt No. 5)

NOTING DATE FOR:

JUNE 28 2023

Plaintiffs, Cory Cummins and Savannah Cummins and Defendants Solgen Power, LLC, and Verity Credit Union together (the “Parties”), by their respective counsel, stipulate pursuant to Local Civil Rule 7(j) to request a second extension of deadlines for initial disclosures, joint status report and early settlement as follows:

1. The Parties discussed and agreed on the need to request a second extension of the deadlines for the Order Regarding Initial Disclosures, Joint Status Report, and Early Settlement (Dkt No. 8) out an additional sixty days. The Parties stipulate that the following deadlines be continued:

Event	Current Deadline	Extended Deadline
Deadline for FRCP 26(f) Conference	6/30/2023	8/30/2023

Initial Disclosures Pursuant to FRCP 26(a)(1)	7/14/2023	9/14/2023
Combined Joint Status Report and Discovery Plan as Required by FRCP 26(f) and Local Civil Rule 26(f):	7/28/2023	9/28/2023

3. This is the second request to extend the deadlines for initial disclosures, joint status report and early settlement (Docket No. 5). The request to extend deadlines was made on May 24, 2023 and the court granted the stipulated order on May 26, 2023 (Dkt No. 8).

4. The Parties have good cause for this second extension of the deadlines as the parties have all consented to process service of the summons and complaint via a waiver of service on filed for each defendant on May 31, 2023. The waiver of service allows the Defendants sixty days to answer the complaint and to conserve attorney and judicial resources, the Parties believe a sixty-day extension of the current deadlines would be appropriate.

5. Thus, the Parties seek the Court's permission to adjust the initial schedule as described herein.

Respectfully submitted this 28th day of June 2023
